

B&D Warranties

YOUR PURCHASE

Congratulations on Your purchase of a B&D Product. We are proud of our Australian heritage and stand by the B&D Products We design and manufacture.

If You use, care for and maintain the B&D Product in accordance with the Product Information, We are confident that You will enjoy the B&D Product for many years to come.

USE

Please use the B&D Product for the purpose for which it was designed and in accordance with the Product Information. This includes:

- a. Removing manual locks from the door before installing an opener
- b. Installing an opener which is suitable for the door
- c. Installing a door which is suitable for the opener
- d. If the B&D Product is installed in any of the following environments or conditions, the life expectancy is affected:
 - i. prolonged exposure to animals, insects, plants, dirt, fire, flood, rain, water, lightning, storms, water, frost, snow, salt or other environmental conditions
 - ii. prolonged exposure to marine, industrial or other corrosive environments, including any installation within 1 km of those environments
 - iii. prolonged failure to receive regular washing by natural rainfall, including any installation where there is a structure surrounding the door that extends greater than 600mm from the wall, such as an eave, canopy, patio, carport or verandah

CARE AND MAINTENANCE

Please care for and maintain the B&D Product for the purpose for which it was designed and in accordance with the Product Information.

It is normal for the surface of the B&D Product to fade in colour or reduce in gloss over time.

As part of your regular care and maintenance, You will need to replace consumables, such as batteries in remote control transmitters, light bulbs, fuses and memory cards, as and when required.

You will also need to have the B&D Product regularly serviced. A regular service replaces door components such as seals, springs and lifting cables as a result of normal wear and tear, and prevents small issues from becoming big problems, such as operating a door after an operating issue has been identified or ought to have been identified and causing further damage.

We strongly recommend You have Your B&D Product serviced by a B&D Representative within 12 months after installation and every 2 years thereafter.

To receive reminders about when Your next service is due, We recommend You register your purchase HERE. (<https://www.bnd.com.au/support/garage-door-warranty/>)

OUR WARRANTY

Our warranty applies to B&D Products purchased after 15/04/2023.
